

Dedham weather report

Significant Severe Weather Possible on Tuesday

National Weather Service Boston, MA

Synopsis...
A significant severe weather event is possible on Tuesday, but is not a certainty at this point.

However, the potential is there for an outbreak of severe storms, so please keep a close eye on the weather over the next 24 to 48 hours.

Higher risk for severe weather in yellow, but possible across most of the area

"Potential" Severe Weather Impacts
Damaging Straight Line Wind Gusts
Large Hail
An Isolated Tornado or two possible

More details The time period when the sun is no more than 6 degrees below the horizon at either sunrise or sunset. The horizon should be clearly defined and the brightest stars should be visible under good atmospheric conditions (i.e. no moonlight, or other lights). One still should be able to carry on ordinary outdoor activities. The time period when the sun is between 6 and 12 degrees below the horizon at either sunrise or sunset. The horizon is well defined and the outline of objects might be visible without artificial light. Ordinary outdoor activities are not possible at this time without extra illumination. The time period when the sun is between 12 and 18 degrees below the horizon at either sunrise or sunset. The sun does not contribute to the illumination of the sky before this time in the morning, or after this time in the evening. In the beginning of morning astronomical twilight and at the end of astronomical twilight in the evening, sky illumination is very faint, and might be undetectable. The time of Actual Sunset minus the time of Actual Sunrise. The change in length of daylight between today and tomorrow is also listed when available.
